Playing for comfort: Meet Kevin Branting

Music has been an integral part of Kevin Branting's life since he was a small boy, and he has used it for inspiration and for healing. For the past year, this Minnesota composer and pianist has shared his gift with the patients, families and staff at the J.A. Wedum Residential Hospice home in Brooklyn Park.

Branting, who has been blind since birth, says that the type of music he composes is reflective, meditative and calming which are features that helped him heal from a traumatic childhood. It seemed natural to share his music with others who have need of comfort, such as those in a hospice setting. He began performing for patients at Hospice of the Twin Cities about a year and a half ago, and in April 2017, started performing at the Wedum home.

"Kevin is a blessing," said Karen Naus, volunteer coordinator for Allina Health Hospice & Palliative Care. "He has a huge, tender heart and is totally committed to playing for the patients, families, staff and volunteers. Not only does his music soothe and comfort patients and families, but volunteers have commented that they have felt supported and lifted by his playing."

Branting performs on Tuesdays from 11 a.m. to noon. When he, and his service dog, Iliad, arrive at Wedum, Branting checks in with nursing staff to find out what is happening that day. He uses that knowledge to adjust his playing to match the mood of the facility. If someone has just passed, he wants to be supportive and not interruptive or distracting.

"I'll play something that supports what is happening at that moment, to suit the circumstances," said Branting. "I respect that this is a very serious stage of life, and all I can offer is my talent and let others take from it what they will."

His dedication and generosity of talent are greatly appreciated by the patients, families and staff at J.A. Wedum Residential Hospice.

Why I give: Venetia Kudrle,

Allina Health Hospice Foundation Board Chair and hospice supporter

How long have you served on the Allina Health Hospice board?

About 10 years.

How long have you been involved with Allina Health and in what capacity?

For most of the last 37 years, starting when I was an administrative student at Abbott Northwestern Hospital, and then in my subsequent work there and in three other Allina Health hospitals.

Why do you give to Allina Health Hospice Foundation?

Because it is the care that I would want for myself and those that I care about, and because many important parts of hospice care are not paid for sufficiently by insurance. When my mom was nearing the end of her life with a tough illness, these services were not available to her.

What do you want others to know about Allina Health Hospice Foundation?

We are a hard working group of people with a passion for spreading the word about hospice care and helping raise funds to provide care to patients and families when they need it most.

Venetia Kudrle

Venetia - thank you for all you do for Allina Health Hospice patients and the families we serve! Your generosity of time, talent and monetary donations are appreciated!

My wife and I wanted to drop you a short note to thank the Hospice Foundation for the TLC gift card we received from our Allina Health Hospice social worker yesterday. It was needed, especially this time of the year, and we appreciate it!

We also want to say thank you for running such a fine hospice program. We don't know what we would have done without their support.

Best personal regards,
Dale & Sue Lindwall
