

Allina Health statement on Nov. 5, 2025 work stoppage

Allina Health is disappointed that some of our clinic providers are choosing to engage in a one-day strike and stepping away from caring for their patients.

We are committed to continuing to provide safe, high-quality care during this time. Our contingency plans are in place, which include working with the more than 25% of providers represented by the union who chose to work.

We deeply value our care team members and remain committed to providing competitive compensation and benefits. However, we must balance these commitments with the broader financial realities facing the health care industry, our patients and consumers.

With the cost of care climbing for patients and health care systems and anticipated cuts in government funding, it would be irresponsible for either party to agree to a contract that adds significant new expenses that will undermine access and increase costs to those who pay for care.

As we continue negotiations with the union, we remain focused on our priority of delivering high-quality, accessible care to the communities we serve.
